The political enemies of Wickliffe were furious, and a large crowd of them gathered in that night and went to Wickliffe's liouse, and would have lynched young Wickliffe had it not been for the pleadings of a minister, who begged them to allow the law to take its course. The mob left. and Wickliffe, after securing the best lawyers in the land, including Henry Clay, who was a strong political opponent of the Wickliffe's, succeeded in getting clear.

Another editor was found for Bennett's paper in the person of a little man of the name of Denton. He never flinched from what he thought was his duty, and he believed his duty was to attack the Wickliffes on every occasion. He not only assailed young Wickliffe and called him a murderer, but he also attacked the father and said that he was everything but what he pretended to be-a gentleman. Young Wickliffe could not stand this, and he promptly challenged Denton to a duel. Being challenged party. Denton said he wanted shptguns at five steps. The second sent by Wickliffe was horror stricken at this, and exclaimed:

"Why, that would be murder!" "Yes, and it would be ninrder for Charley Wickliffe to shoot at me twenty steps with a pistol, for I ma so near-sighted that I can not see a man over five steps away.'

He drove on, and within less than an hour he was a corpse. The two men were attended by their second and two surgeons. They were placed at the proper distance apart and a loaded rifle was given to each. At the word both fired, but Denton's gun cracked an instant before Wickliffe's, and the bullet struck Wickliffe's heart, killing up from his sick bed, and when examining trial, but being of a deal through which he had passed caused him to lose his reason, and

GIFTS OF MILLIONS THE WORK OF WOMEN

THEIR FADS, DIVERSIONS AND INVENTIONS.

Royal and Literary Women and Their Work-Serviceable Devices for Which Humanity is Grateful-Occcupations of Rich and Poor.

Nearly all grent women, ns well as great men have their fads. A fad is useful thing in many ways. It serves to rest the intelligent at times, when every nerve and brain cell has been overtaxed by the absorbing subject of tenser study.

Queen Victoria's fads are gardening nd dogs and ponies.

Princess Louise boasts of the numer of dishes which she has invented. The Queen of Italy collects glevos, boots and shoes which have been worn by royal personages. Sho has shoes which belonged to Queen Ann, and a fan which was the property of Mary, Queen of Scots

Tho Queen of Greece is said to bo the finest needlewoman among European royality. The Empress of Ger-many loves to knit. The Dowsger Queen of Portugal, when at hor home on the seashore of Caldas, amuses herself by shooting from high win-dows at bottles placed in the sea for

Maria Theresa of Bavaria is fond of pets, and is always accompanied by 14 of her favorites when she takes a

Tho Czarino of Russin is fond of lace, and a remarkable piece of Chantilly was presented to her as a hirthday gift by the French government last year.

Many of america's favorite women also have their fads. Francis MacVelgh collects palms. She has one, a dwarf palm, which is said to be 250 years old.

Mrs. Philip D. Armour, Jr., collects plates, and owns more than 2,000 exquisite plates. Susan B. Authony has a fad for making quilts and rugs.

Candace Wheeler, the veteran art connoisseur and business woman, knits. The daughters of ex-Mayor Hewitt have a mania for learning how to do things, and recently they even learned how to shoe a horse, not only hammering out the shoes on tho anvil, but nailing them to the horse's feet.

A long list of American women have become experts in the use of rifles and plstols. Among them are Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Havemeyer. Mrs. Alfred Setoa, Mrs. Seward Webb and Mrs. Valentine Mett. All of these women by diligent practice of their pet fad have routed the ancient creed that a bull's eye must be the size of a barn door in order for a woman to hit it.

Mrs. Charles T. Barnes's collection of tea pots in Chicago is one of the largest n the country-or was, until half of her lot wero lost in the fire that destroyed her house.

Mrs. D. Harry Hammer has 10,000 buttons which came from all over the world, and many of which are interesting as souvenirs of various wars. Several of the buttons bear crests of distinguished families, among which are those of Gladstone, Sir Robert Napier, Lord Raleigh, the Duke of Argyll, Count Hatzfeldt and the Marquis

In the Inventive world women have of the most us ful inventions of to-day were evolved by the eternal feminine. Nor do they pertain to what has been termed the woman's sphere." Silk weaving was invented by the wife of the fourth Chinese Emperor; bronze work by a Japauese woman; the weaving of cashmere shawls by a woman of the Indian harem, and the lost secret of Venotian point lace was rediscovered by nn Italian woman. Harriet Hosmer is mentioned as having invented the way to make marblo from limestone which the Italian Government had long been seeking. Mary Kles was the first woman in America to take out a patent and in the year 1809 she was granted one for "weaving straw with either silk or

A woman invented a setchel-bottomed paper bag and was offered $20. 000 for her patent before sho left Washington. A woman nvented the Burkden process of making horseshoes, which turns out such rapid work that it has saved the country $2,500,000 in 14 years. A number of women's inventions are known to have been patented under the names of their husbands, fathers or broth-

The women of the State of New York, in point of numbers of invontions, head the list, with those of the New England States following a close second, the Northwest and Middle Statos ranking next.

An Illinois woman invented a baling press, and two from Texas a dig-glng machino. A Cincinnati woman is the inventor of a method for decorating pettery, and one from San Francisco devised a tap and faucet; a Philadelphla woman a blcycle saddie; a Massachusetts woman a window frame and sash; a woman from Switzerland a calendar clock; a California woman a mothod of and means for impounding debris and storing water; a New York woman a glass jar fruit protector; an English woman a horseshoe; a Massachusetts woman an ab-dominal supporter; a Florida woman a raifroad car; an Illinois woman a car heater: a West Virginin woman a hemming attachment for newing machines. In the beginning and toward the middle of this century most of the inventions patented by women were made in the line of articles pertaining to the house, the nursery, personal comfort and wearing apparel, such as spinning wheel heads, moccasins, a calash balloon for ladles, a bandage, an ice-cream freezer, making artificial flowers, a button worker, a clothes frame, a muff, washing machines and a process for manufacturing cheese. After the war and up to the present time street cars, vulcanized rubber and textile fabrics, windmills, fire escapes, typewriters, sectional horseshoes and pneumatic tires were patimized and pneumatic tires were patimized. ented by women inventore,

SCIENCE EXPLAINS.

Bible Miracies Are Not Essential to Christianity.

Mirneles as an article of fuith were taken out of Christianity by Prof. Ben-jamin W. Bacon, of the Yale Divinity School, the other evening. He spoke before the Men's Club of the United Church on the theme "Is n Bellef in Miracles Essentini, to Christianity?"

At the outset Prof. Bacon declared that it was not, and he said that the greater part of the miracles of the Bible can now be explained by selentific reasoning. They were regarded originally as miracles because they wore not understood. He pointed to the alleged miraculous destruction of armies and multitudes of people according to the Oid Testament, asserting that some plague which was not understood fell upon the armics, and that because of the enormous number of deaths which followed a miracle was said to have been wrought.

Prof. Bacon explained the crossing of the Red Sea by the children of israel by saying that it had been been found that high winds actually drive the sea back at the exact spot where the miracle is supposed to have taken place, and that probably the children of Israel arrived at just the timo when one of these was blowing.

He declared that the test of the wilraculous was "permanent incomprehen-sibility." The only two mirneles which have stood the test of science in altompts to explain are, he said, the itesurrection and the Crneifixion. He referred to many of the miracles of the New Ttestament as "legendary accrewere written down from memory, years after their occurrence, by the

WHITTAKER IS HELD

Frankfort, Ky., March 6-Silas Jones, of Whitley county, who was arrested for complicity in the Goebel shooting, was this afternoon admitted to bail in the sum of $500. At the Whittaker trial he testified that five shots came from the executive building.

When the case against Harland Whittaker was called, the room was full of people, many of whom were witnesses. Twelve Commonwealth witnesses were examined; the defendant introduced no testimony, both prosecution and defense seemed to hold back and evade touching jure the system by frequent use, the points that will be of vital importance at the regular trials of whoever may be indicted. The plan of the prosecution was evidently to bring out barely enough to hold Whittaker, and not disclose to the defense the evidence intended to be brought out later.

At the conclusion of this testimony both sides rested, without argunent, Judge Moore promptly said: "I will hold the prisoner over to the next grand jury without bail."

Whittaker was immediately taken back to jail.

American Lice Destroyer Kills More Mites, Lice and Other Vermin in a Day Than All Other Remedles Combined

The war is on! The days of lice and vermin that have done so much to make the life of the noulbryman miserable, and his business unprofitable are byer. American Lice Destroyer is the proper ammunition to use! This preparation is wonderful in its power and vermin cannot exist 24 hours after it is applied to the coop of fowls. Every poultryman needs it. It is cheap, reliable and effective, one package being sufficient to protect 250 fowls from mites and lice for one year. When this Deströyer is used; profits at once increase. Lice and vermin do more to kill profits than all other causes combined. You know it. Don't go losing money every week, but try American Lice Destroyer. You may have tried other things without success, but if this fails you can have your money back. We are in this fight to stay, and will back Destroyer against any number of mites or lice you may have. Don't fool away money with "receipts" or home-made makeshifts. Use scientific means. The American Lice Destroyer has been used by thousands of poultrymen; i has been on the market several years and has been tested thousands of times. We know it is all right, and if it doesn't do the work remember you get your money back. What more can you past week. ask? If your druggist don't sell American Lice Destroyer, he's behind the age. # YOUNG LAW BREAKERS.

The Tabor Brothers Confess to the Grime of Petty Larceny.

WILL GO TO THE REFORMATORY.

Tuesday there were two youthful law breakers before County Judge. Rochester. Will Hugh Tabor, aged seventeen, plead guilty to stenling three chickens, which he brought to town and sold, while his brother Floyd, aged 13, acknowledged that he had taken a 'possum pelt from Koltinsky's grocery and sold it.

They are both waifs, without friends or homes. Their father, who formerly lived here, is now in a distant state. The House of Reform, near Lexington, owned and kept up by the State, is for such as they, and instead of sending them to jail, the court will send them to the State institution; this will be cheaper for the county and infinitely better for the boys. To punish them with a month's sentence in jail, and then turn them adrift without a parent's care or his father very ill, and there is hut the restraining influence of home, would but invite them to go from bad to worse, while there is at least a chance for them, if placed under the care of the reformatory.

In answer to n telegram, Judge Rochester was notified yesterday that there was room for them. They will be sent to Lexington temorrowati

Shirt Waists.

The season of shirt walsts is at hand. Indeed, it is always at hand, for that matter, nad while predictions have been repeatedly maile that these comfortable, pretty and sensible garments would soon go out of style, thanks to Dame Fortune they are pereunial. The Illustration shows a very attractive one, and with the small back and front vignettes, as given, no great difficulty will be found in making it.

Of course, when you are asked to pay n visit that is sure to be very nice, you wish to accept. But, then, comes some fluttering of the heart as to whether your tollet things are good enough. But with a little care and ontiny you need not mind what people think. Make a pretty white ilnen bag, and keep your brush and comb hidden there, instead of lald out on the dressing table. Dressing slippers can be made from shabby house shoes, eovered with scarlet cloth and with a black bow on each. If you have rather shabby frocks keep them shut away In your wardrob. Take only a few frocks and let those be your best.

To Musical Readers.

When one is fond of singing or playlag and one's purge is a very slender one, It is very seidom indeed that you can afford the price of good new music. And yet to sing the old ones only is not only dull for one's self, but boring to one's audienco. To prevent tills, buy a blank music book, or rule music lines in an ordinary blank one, and copy your musle in there. Friends are always very glad to lend you theirs for this purpose, and you can often get stray things from musical papers, that would otherwise be lost. In his way, at no cost, you can keep up with the music of the moment.

RADIUM.

A New Chemical Which is Better Than the X-Ray.

Prof. George F. Barker, of the physical inhoratory of the University of Pennsylvania, exhibited jast week for the first time in America, the newly discovered chemical element radium which seems destined to create a great stir in the scientific world. Years ago Bequerel found that salts of the rare metal uraninm possessed the power of throwing off a feeble and invisible radlance, like the X rnys. Mme. Curle, In Purls, last year isolated from the Bohemlan mineral pitchblend two other elements that behave in the same manbe 100,000 times as intense us uranium in its photographic effect. Prof. Barker lms been experimenting with all three of these elements and with the mineral optichilend or uranite) from which the two new ele-ments are derived. He showed to the Ribilographical Club here this week a series of photographic plates on which Impressions had been produced by these substances. His procedure has been as follows: "A photographic plate was inclosed in black paper and then covered with yellow paper. After one whole day's exposure to the smillght no effect was produced. This precaution proved the thoroughness of the protection. Then the various metals and saits were placed upon the paper-covered plate and they produced dark stains.

"In order to take photographs of objects such as a hand or foot these objects would be placed between the metnl and the plate, and the result would be similar to those obtained by the X rays such substances as bone would show clearly through the flesh and surrounding tissue. A photograph can be taken by means of radium in half a minute. "The Importance of this discovery enn inrdiy be overestimated. The wouderful results of the X rays now so nseful in surgicai diagnosis, can be duplicated by a method much cheaper, Moreover radium seems to suffer no diminution of energy or loss of weight during the process. In addition to producing an impression on the photographle plate, radium produces phosphorescence, and discharges electrified bodies. Thus it will be seen that it possesses all the qualities of the Roentgen rays.

"Radium apparently violates one of the fundamental inws of physics, namely, that of the conservation of energs. It does not derive its photographle power from the sunlight nor lose it by expenditure."-N. Y. Tribune.

BRIAR PIPES.

Signs by Which a Smoker Can Teil a Good One.

It is strange, and yet it is a fact, that the English workman is of no use lu the manufacture of pipes. The most skliiful artisans are elther the Austriaus or the French. The plpemakers are a very select, small body, and observe every precaution to prevent their trade being learned by outsiders. The workmen are elever and they can earn high so expensive.

The prevailing defect, I may mention by the way, is generally in the form of a crack in the wood. I used to self these defective blocks of briar at a penny aplece, and have sent away as muny us 40,000 condemned briars at a time, but now I burn them nii. The briars were sent abroad and the cracks and tlaws stopped with putly or some other composition and then sleeped in n strong solution of permanganate of potash, which deeply colored the wood and made the defect invisible except on close inspection. All those briars you see of a very deep color linve passoi through the permanganate of potash bath, and con may re t assured that there is a defect somewhere-they would not be that color if it were not so, because natural briar is of a medlnin ilght hue.

"As to the average life of a briar pipe, you may take it for granted that a pipe will last you as many years as it costs you shillings. That is to say, if you pay six shiffings for a pipe if you are a moderate smaker, it will last you six years. The style of briar pipe that ls mostly in demand is that with a bowl cut the straight way of the grahu This is not the most reliable kind of ptpe, as the sadden expansion by the hent and contraction of the wood when you stup smoking cause it to split in a short time. The rest pattern of briar is that with a bowl the grain of which ls very mottled in appearance, or, as the trade call it, the 'blrd's-eye grain. This will never split."

the air of a man who thinks he has nttered a poser. The suitor looked him in the eye. "Let's talk this thing over," he sald.

Do you think your daughter is qualified to make a man a good wife? "Yes sir. Her mother and I are both practical people, and we have given her a practical education. She can not only read Greek and play the piano-she practices three hours a day-but she can cook a good dlaner. and do the marketing as intelligently as an experienced steward. Moreover, her abilitles with the needle are not confined to fancy work. She's a treasure and we don't propose to have mny doubt about her future. You were asking me if I thought I could support her in style to which the had been accustomed?"

"Well, I could; but I don't propose to. After she marries me she's not going to practice any three hours a day on any plano, nor cook dlaners, nor bandy words with market people. She's going to have all the sewing done outside the house, read what she enjoys, whether It is Greek or Choctaw, and go to the theatre twice a week. A desperate political fight occurred in Lexington in the fall of 1888 in front of the Parnix Hotel. Thomay M. Green, a descendant of the Marshalls of Kentucky, and one of the most bitter writers Kentucky ever produced, was an editorial correspondent of the old Cincinnati Commercial Gazette. There had been an election that summer in which the Democrats were charged with having practiced gross frauds. especially in Jessamine. It was charge I that Lee Baldwin, a prominout Democrat of that county, was concerned in these frauds. Green wrote a series of articles which bristle l with abuse of Baldwin.
